

Help! I'm having trouble exporting!

If you are having trouble logging into The Gift List Database, it could be because your computer is set to block downloads from the Internet. First, make sure that you're allowing downloads and NOT blocking pop-up windows.

— Safari —

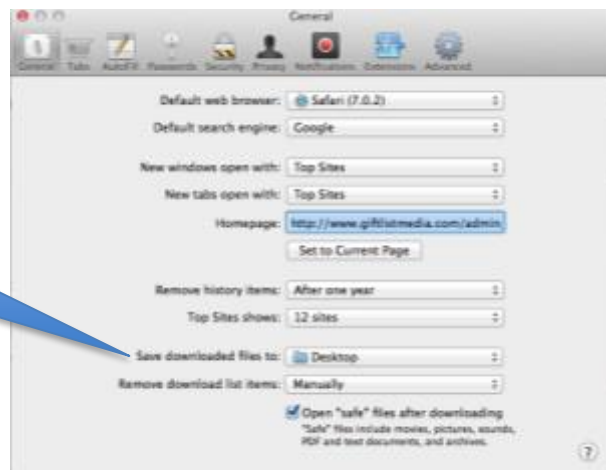

Open Safari. Select Preferences from the Safari menu.

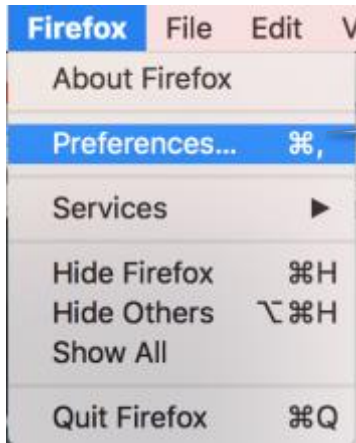

On the Security page, uncheck the box blocking pop-up windows.

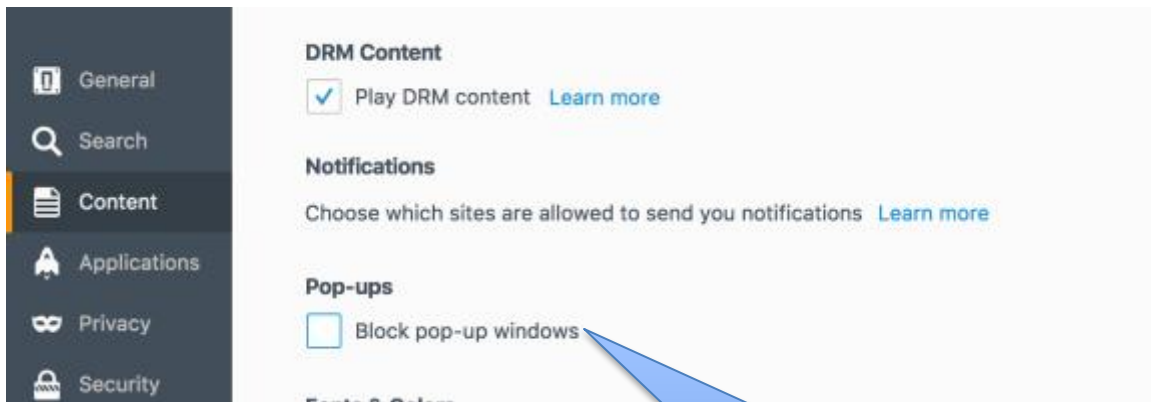

On the General page, make sure you have selected a location for downloads.

— Firefox —

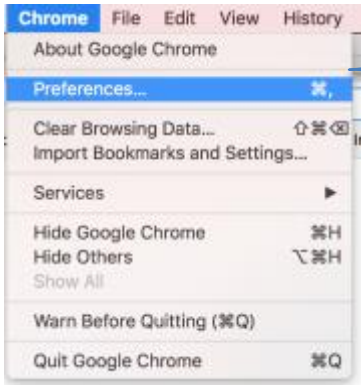

Open Firefox. Select Preferences from the Chrome menu.

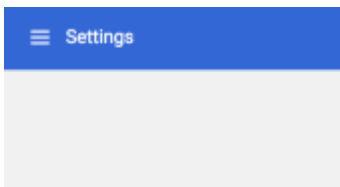

Click on Content and then make sure the box is unchecked under pop-up windows.

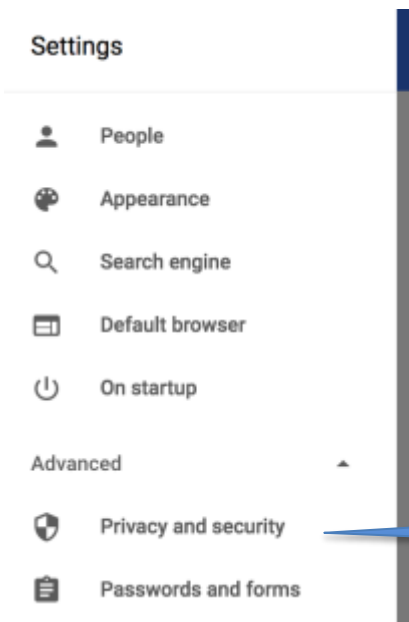

— Chrome —

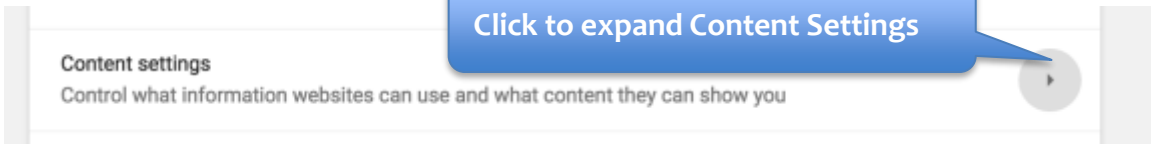

Open Chrome. Select Preferences from the Chrome menu.

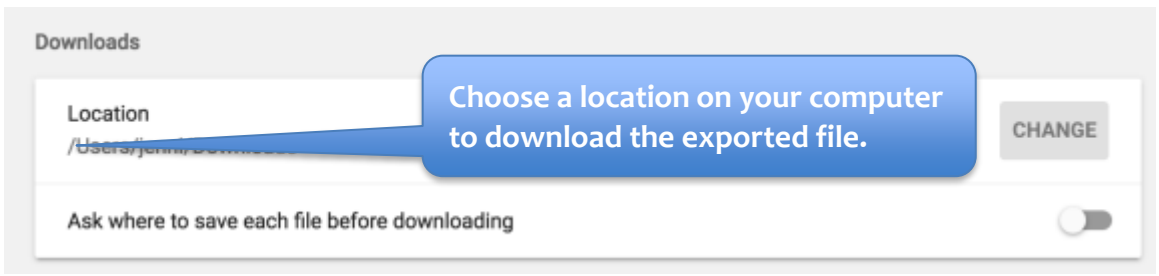

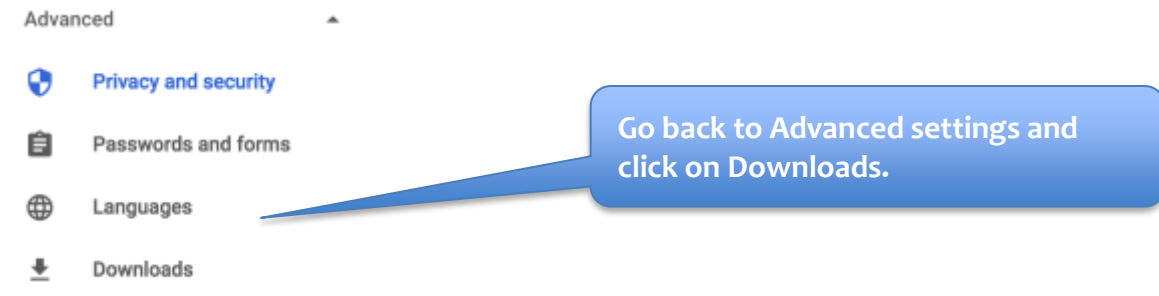

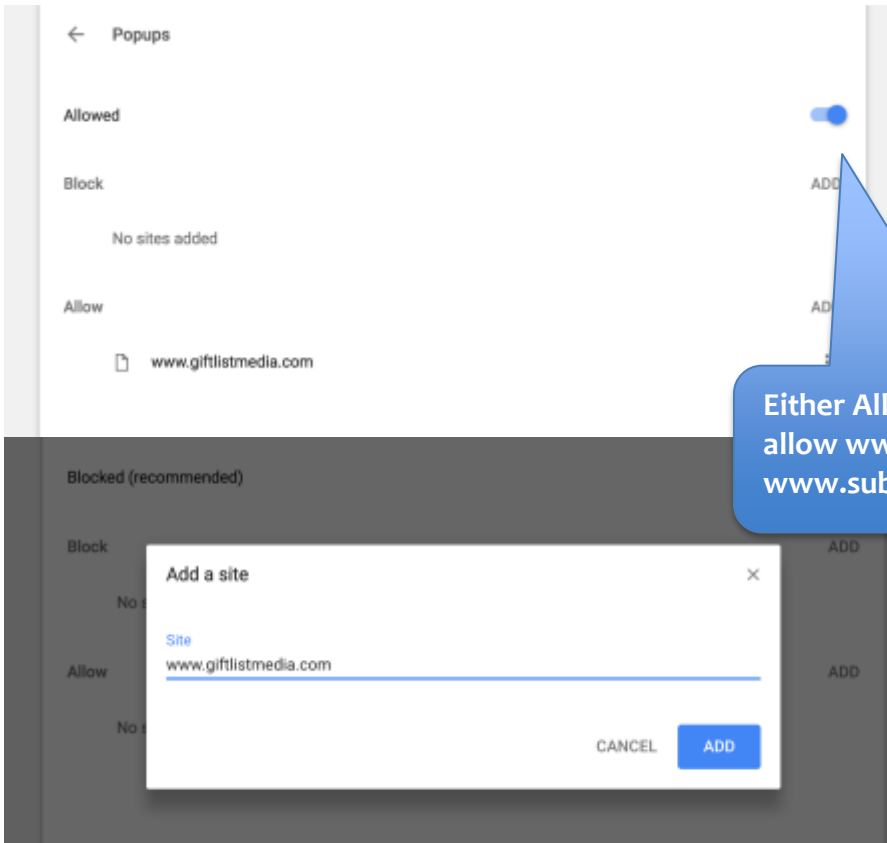

Click the three horizontal lines to expand settings.

Click on Advanced to expand, then on Privacy and Security.

Click to expand Content Settings

Login to the database from which you want to export data.

Please close this window after saving file.

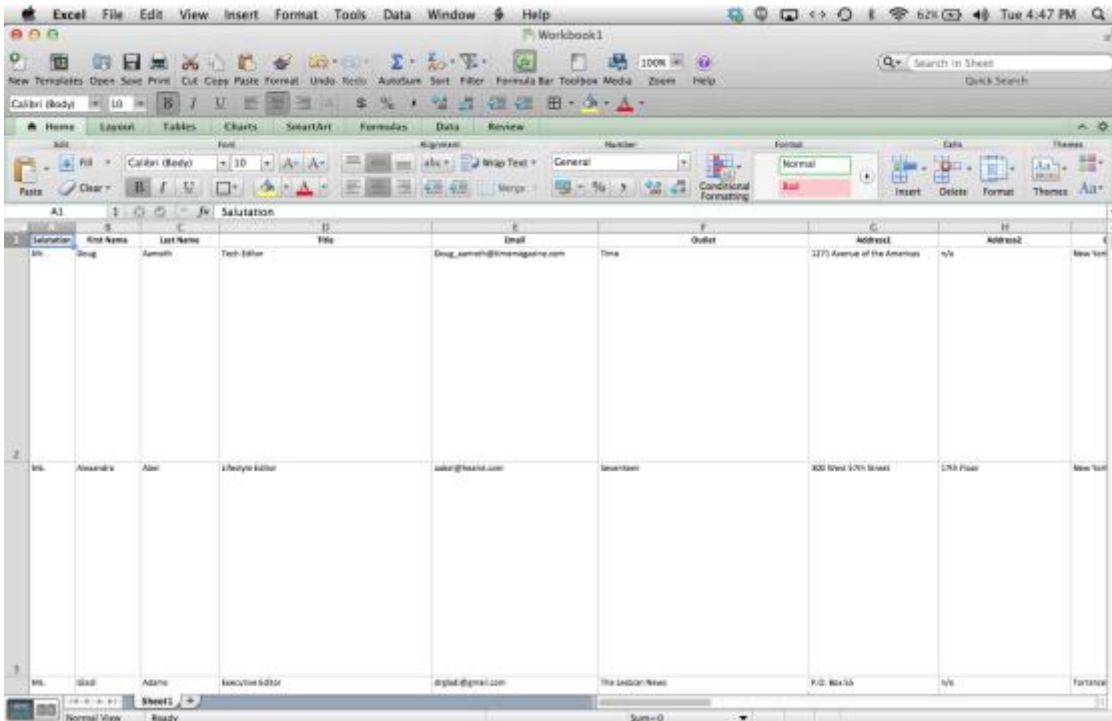

The download pop-up will appear, and the downloading processes will take place. Large files take a while.

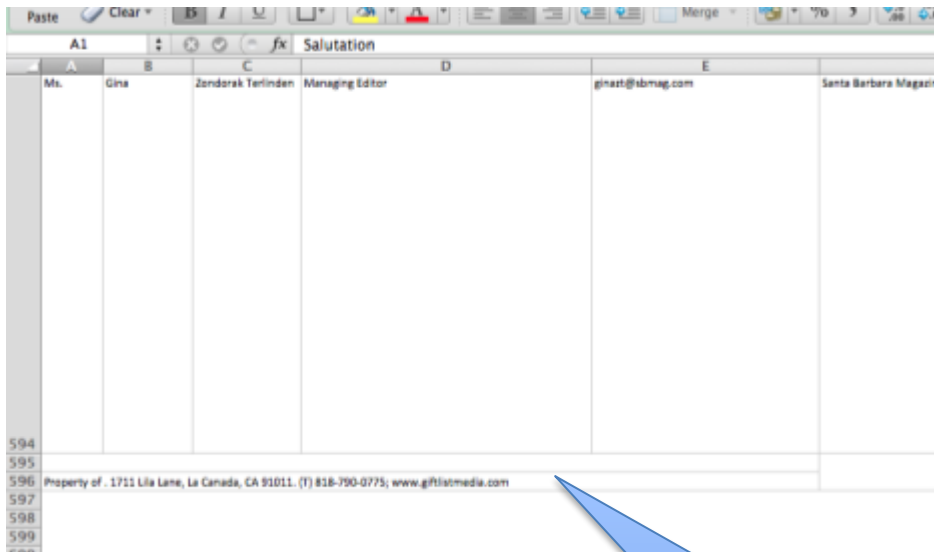

Depending on your settings, the file will be saved wherever you have set downloaded files to go.

Double click on the file to launch Excel and open the file.
